Angie and Lee

Thank you for considering our profile in this difficult time, and giving us a chance to be the parents that we have always wanted to be.

Us in our back yard

We met in Victoria in 2005 where we dated for three years. Then in 2009, we had the wedding of our dreams on the beach in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. As of this writing we have been married for eight and half years, in that time we have explored many common interests that we would like share such as music, camping, gardening and pet care. Our friendship has only grown over the many years and road trips we have taken together and we feel our love is big enough for another.

Both of us have supportive families that are in close proximity and share our excitement at the prospect of an adopted child. Each of us grew up in house holds where family dinners and discussion were an important tradition that we will continue. We have always discuss adoption as a viable way to start our family, but upon the discovery of Angie's infertility, it became our favorite option.

About Angie by Lee

Angie is single-handedly the most caring person I have ever know. No life is too small or insignificant; all share an equal plane in the eyes of this wonderful woman. As a prime example of this, she works in a nursing home where she cares for the elderly. She often says that her happiest moments are when she is being called "Auntie".

About Lee by Angie

Lee is a telecommunications technologist. His job allows him both to support the fun loving lifestyle that we share and the flexibility to make time for what is important. Lee has a very creative, patient and open personality that leads to an interest in many hobbies. He is a very loving husband and uncle.

Our Home

We own a townhouse in Maple Ridge that has a fenced yard with a vegetable garden and grass that plays host to many a BBQ for friends and family. Our home is steps away from an elementary school and in a neighborhood that is a wash in parks, pools, lakes and beaches that we frequent often.

Openness

In the interest of the child's welfare, we are willing to discuss any level of openness with you or other members of the birth family. We believe that a connection to ones roots, both biological and cultural, is important in the development of the child.
